SECRETARY DANIELS TAKES ISSUE WITH ADMIRAL SIMS

THE LIST OF GERMANS DEMANDED FOR TRIAL PUBLISHED

Naval Secretary Appears Before Senate Investigating Subcommittee Armed With The Records of Department

PRAISES ADMIRAL SIMS

And Outlines Chief Differences Of Opinion in Matter of The Decorations.

Declares There is No Distinction Between An Admiral and a Gob in the Matter of Award "It is The Service, Not The Rank, That Counts," is The Assertion.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 3.—Taking up the contentions of Rear Admiral William S. Sims in the matter of naval medal awards point by point, Secretary Daniels, in his appearance today before the Senate investigating subcommittee, took direct and emphatic issue with the Admiral.

Planked by voluminous records from the Navy Department, the Secretary went into detail in explaining changes he had made in conferring decorations as recommended by the commanding officers of the Navy and by the Knight Board of Medal Awards.

The Naval Secretary outlined to the committee two chief differences between his views and the views held by Admiral Sims in awarding the medals.

These were at variance as to the importance of service at sea compared with service on shore, and differences on the question of whether a distinguished service medal should be awarded under any circumstances to a commander of a ship sunk or seriously damaged by enemy submarines or mines.

Asserting that Admiral Sims had "demonstrated ability of a high order," Secretary Daniels said:

"The position of Rear Admiral Sims in placing shore duty above sea duty in the danger zone is no doubt influenced by his own record."

Figures presented by Mr. Daniels showed that during the last 25 years Admiral Sims had served about 16 years on shore duty and nine at sea. As justifying his contention that individual duties ashore are necessarily of secondary importance, Mr. Daniels said:

"On shore, a man decides important questions in the quiet of office surroundings, and if he makes a mistake, his error is not immediately followed by disastrous results.

"At sea, the commander must make momentous decisions in the flash of a single moment, and a mistake in this emergency is fatal."

Referring to Admiral Sims' statement that he had not recommended any enlisted men for medals because "we had nothing to give them," Secretary Daniels called the committee's attention to the act creating the awards, which he said made no distinction between an admiral, captain and enlisted man.

"It is the service he renders, the service in peril, and not his rank, that counts," he added.

Emphatic denial was made by the Secretary of Admiral Sims' statement that the policy followed in awarding medals had "shot to pieces" the navy's morale.

SEC. Y. TELLS WHY ADMIRAL WILSON DREW NO MEDALS

New Russian Policy

There are some close observers of events who see in the lifting of the blockade against Soviet Russia, the withdrawal of American troops from northern Russia in Europe, and the announcement by Japan of an intention to withdraw all troops from Siberia, the adoption of a new policy of the allies which will culminate in an open declaration of war on Russia by Great Britain and Japan.

Perhaps that is a correct conclusion to be drawn from the very marked change in policy, but until the haze of diplomacy and secrecy rolls away and the final curtain is rung up for the last act of the Russian tragedy, we can only speculate.

It is certain, however, that the past policy of the allied and associated nations in dealing with Soviet Russia, has been costly and ineffective.

The Russian masses, ignorant and utterly lacking in aggressive ambition are not going to throw off the yoke which the red autocrats have placed on their necks. If Bolshevism is to be overthrown it is up to the civilized nations to do it.

Cause for declaration of war against the Bolsheviks exists in abundance and will continue to multiply. The warfare against organized society by the red radicals is kept up by the Soviet regime of Lenine and Trotsky. If we are to fight Bolshevism the people prefer that it be done right and openly.

Need For a Two-cent Coin

A bill providing for the coining of a two and one-half cent piece has been introduced at Washington by the chairman of the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures. The proposed coin is to be of copper and to bear a medallion likeness of Theodore Roosevelt.

This is in line with a campaign conducted by the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association of New York for the re-issue of a two-cent coin bearing a Roosevelt medallion and the dates of his birth and death.

The issuing of such a coin is supported by many bankers, business people, department store managers and housewives from the standpoint of practical utility as well as by the thousands of admirers of Colonel Roosevelt who feel that it is fitting to place his likeness on a coin which will touch, as he did, the everyday life of the American citizen.

A few have suggested that Roosevelt's likeness be reserved for imprint upon a pure gold coin, but it would seem infinitely more appropriate that a man of the people such as he was should be associated with the coins of the many—the democratic penny.

Aside from the desire to offer a tribute of remembrance to Theodore Roosevelt there is need of such a coin as a two and one-half cent piece. The lack of it is costing the public an enormous sum every year because dealers pocket the half cent which they would not take from customers if it were possible to make the exact change.

The small tax on petty luxuries and many necessary commodities, the outcome of the war, necessitates that the purse be full of pennies and there is considerable inconvenience to both shoppers and the clerks who must be ready to make change.

The congestion of purse and pocket would be reduced materially by the circulation of a two cent coin or by the two and a half cent coin, which would also cover the half cent charge.

Cost of a Bad Neighbor

The estimator who has just figured that nine years of Mexican troubles cost the United States a billion dollars deals with a subject difficult to reduce to figures. The military outlay incident to this country's Mexican dealings has undoubtedly cost hundreds of millions in the past few years. The peril in Mexico has obliged the United States to keep an army on a campaign footing to cover its borders for some four years. It has put the United States to the expense of two protracted military expeditions into hostile territory.

All this forms but a small part of the loss in which a bad neighbor has involved us. On American territory property in some amount has suffered from Mexican depredations, and in greater amount from loss of value due to insecurity. International enterprises, including more than one promising railroad crossing the border, have gone to smash in their American portions because of the collapse of their Mexican portions. In this class of loss must rank many commercial businesses which relied upon the former prosperous trade in Mexican goods.

If we look beyond strictly American losses we shall find great sums lost in Mexican property owned by Americans and in Mexican debts similarly owned. We shall find a long list of American lives lost; a difficult matter to inventory in dollars. But these losses might have occurred if the Mexicans had not been abutting neighbors. What we wish to emphasize is the constant, steady and enormous drain imposed on the United States by the actively detrimental contact of a bad neighbor.—New York Evening Sun.

POETRY FOR TODAY

ENNUY

Sweet Sorrow seems to haunt me now;
But once I courted her,
For the glow has waned from the years,
And fancy broods with unshed tears,
Nor dares to stir.

Oh, for the shock of wild combat,
Or the touch of passion's flame,
To be caught in a world of storm,
To feel again the pulses warm
And flee these shapes without name.

But combat is hollow and passion dust,
And color and strife are pale,
And the long sad days pass one by one,
And the gray earth turns from sun to sun,
And night is a lonely vale.

KNOWLES GIRL WITH HER BABY IS SENT TO JOIN RELATIVES

New York, February 3.—Miss Emily Knowles was released from Ellis Island yesterday and left on the steamer Plymouth for Fall River, Mass., with her baby, Mrs. Perley R. Spiker, wife of the father of the child, and Guy Spiker, Perley Spiker's brother, whom she has promised to marry.

Late today a $1000 liberty bond was posted for the release of Miss Knowles by Mrs. Spiker, who invited the English girl to come to this country and make her home in Baltimore with her and her husband.

Must See Relatives.
Immigration Commissioner Uhl announced that Miss Knowles must be delivered to her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Battersby, in Fall River, before she may be married. This upset plans for an immediate wedding here, and Guy Spiker, who had proposed and been accepted earlier in the day, decided to go to Fall River, where the ceremony may be performed tomorrow.

The baby, who has been named Alfred Ray Knowles, will be 5 months old the day after tomorrow.

Benjamin Kirshstein, the family lawyer, says he has received letters offering financial assistance to the girl, praising Mrs. Spiker for her "magnanimous action and her sweet and forgiving nature," and commending Guy Spiker for his "chivalrous offer."

Modern Dairy Methods
Great Aid to the Public Health

If all the food that goes on the family table received the attention and care the modern dairy gives to the Milk Supply, the public health would indeed be well cared for.

Every drop of Milk that comes from our plant is first perfectly pasteurized, which is nothing more than a process of sterilization. It is then immediately cooled to a low temperature and at once placed in bottles which have previously been washed and sterilized.

Our methods make Milk absolutely pure and safe for your family to use, but Nature makes it the most nourishing and universally adaptable of all foods.

You can't find a cheaper food, considering food elements, than Milk, and you can't find more approved methods of handling it than ours, so there is no reason for hesitating in the use of more Milk.

"Word comes from New York City that the debut recital, given Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Miss Pauline Watson, violinist of this city, at the Park theater, was a great success.

"A large audience was in attendance, and the violinist was recalled again and again at the conclusion of her two concertos.

The first of these was the Brahms and the other the Tchaikowsky, the greatest concertos in violin literature. To have given the two at one concert was considered the accomplishment of genius. Each composition requires forty minutes for the playing, and both are so extraordinary difficult they are only possible for violinists of very large technique.

"Miss Watson's accompaniments were played by a large symphony orchestra, consisting of picked men from the ranks of the New York Philharmonic orchestra under the direction of Richard Hageman, one of the best-known musicians in New York.

At the close of the last concerto Mr. Hageman laid down his baton on the stand, and leaned over to shake hands with the violinist, by way of congratulation, while the audience applauded. "Her tone was limpid and pure and of great beauty," writes a critic, who heard her, and in the long and exacting program there was no slip of memory. She played with supreme expression.

"Among her encore numbers was Bach's Chaconne, which is one of the greatest test pieces of violinists, and to which she gave fine rendition."

Mr. Brain Present.

"Among those present at the concert were Mr. Robert Brain, Miss Watson's former teacher, who made a special trip to New York to hear his gifted pupil; Mr. Aton Witke of Boston, with whom Miss Watson studied, while she has been in that city; Mrs. J. W. Watson and Mr. Marilyn Watson, mother and brother of the violinist, from Springfield and other friends from this city, Boston and New York."—Springfield Sun.

PARTNERSHIP FORMED OF LOCAL INTEREST

"The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leland regret to know that they expect to move to Helena, Arkansas, within a few weeks to locate. Mr. and Mrs. Leland have made many friends during their short stay in our city who wish them success in their new home"—Columbus (Miss.) Commercial.

The above excerpt from the society columns of the Commercial arouses the interest of Mr. and Mrs. Leland's numerous Washington C. H. friends in their future plans.

Mr. Leland recently resigned his position with the Southern Cotton Oil Co., enters a partnership with Mrs. Leland's brother, Mr. J. A. Squier, and brother-in-law, Mr. E. E. Barr, of Isola, Miss., and open a Men's Clothing store of their own in Helena Ark., on March the first. They have leased a beautiful room in the new million dollar hotel building just completed in Helena, the room opening into the Hotel lobby as well as onto the street.

The store will be managed by Mr. J. A. Squier, who has been manager of a similar clothing store in Helena for two years, and Mr. Leland, Mr. Barr the silent partner of the firm, opening a cotton office in Helena.

The business opportunity in such a live city as Helena is most promising and the success with which Mr. Leland is forging a head learned with much gratification here.

LEGION URGES MEN TO RENEW WAR INSURANCE

Efforts are being made by the local American Legion Paul H. Hughey Post No. 25, to secure a general renewal of War Risk Insurance policies. Attention is being called to the fact that the original bill was amended by the Sweet bill, which became a law on December 24, when the President signed it.

In addition to this bill, the Wasson bill is now before the house and seems assured of an early passage. Further beneficial changes in War Risk Insurance will be made by this law if passed. Principal changes wrought by the Sweet bill were to make better provisions for the care of wounded soldiers, with disability payments ranging from $80 to $105 per month.

With these amendments to the law the object of the Legion is to set before all soldiers and sailors or marines who served in the World War the desirability of reinstating their insurance if it has been dropped.

Burnett Hyer has been appointed by the local post of the American Legion as War Risk Officer and is in a position to furnish all ex-service men complete information regarding the new policies. This work is performed by the American Legion to all ex-service men and is not confined to members of the Legion alone.

The local post announces that there is a limited time allowed for the reinstatement of lapsed or cancelled policies and men who have dropped their insurance should loose no time in investigating the new provisions before it is too late.

ONLY NATION OF ALL COLONIES

London, January 18.—(By Associated Press)—(By Mail)—"Tonggannu, one of the Unfederated Malay States, is the only state under British protection in which the abominable practice of taking children in pledge for what their parents owe still exists," says J. L. Humphreys, the British Agent there in his annual report. This debt-slavery is to be abolished shortly says Mr. Humphreys.

The debt is treated as hereditary; the children are taken in pledge and no reduction is made in the debt on account of the labor of the debtor.

CAUGHT IN BELT PAINFULLY HURT

Glen Orinhood, an employee of the Record-Republican Co., was painfully injured in an accident at the plant on North Fayette Street Tuesday morning, when he suffered a compound fracture of the left wrist in addition to being badly bruised about the limbs and body.

Orinhood was in the act of throwing a belt over a revolving shaft when his shirt sleeve became entangled in another belt operating at full speed nearby and he was carried upward to ward the overhead shaft with it.

Other workmen made haste to shut off the power and this was accomplished in time to prevent more serious injury to the unfortunate man, who at the time was bent double over the shaft. He was hurried to the office of Dr. G. W. Blakeley, where his injuries were attended to.

"I asked my druggist about it. I was getting so I didn't feel like work at all and just felt tired and droopy all the time. I didn't have much of an appetite either and was weak and nervous so much I lost weight," declared a lady whose address follows.

"My druggist told me Earle's Hypo-Cod was the tonic I needed and I have gained weight—eat more and feel better everywhere. It is a good tonic alright and I recommend it," continued Miss M. Green, stenographer for the East Side Window Cleaning Co., living at 312 Xenia Ave., Dayton Ohio.

LIBERTY GASOLINE IN YOUR GAS TANK PROVES ITS WORTH

Liberty Gasoline will never prove satisfactory for your motor until you put it in your gas tank. That much is certain.

But there is another and just as truthful assertion, and it's this—Just as soon as you fill up with Liberty there will be a noticeable difference in the smooth running of the motor. And there will be a decided lengthening of the time between fillings, for Liberty burns so cleanly and fires so quickly that the motor is not sluggish; then too, the methods of refining have removed all carbon depositing foreign matter, thus the motor requires less fuel, and the result—more miles per gallon. You are not doing justice to yourself in the matter of car upkeep unless you demonstrate to your satisfaction that Liberty Gasoline is or is not what we claim for it.

We maintain our filling stations for the benefit of the consumer, one at our plant on S. Fayette St., and the other at The Tire Shop. You are assured of service and quality products at either.

CITY COUNCIL HAS BUSY TIME MONDAY NIGHT

New City Health Board Approved As Chosen by Mayor—Important Legislation Enacted. Councilman Brownell Named President Pro Tem.

City Council met Monday evening in one of its busiest sessions. Four persons appeared before the council in behalf of groups of citizens and asked the body for action, a city board of health as appointed by Mayor V. J. Dahl was approved, important legislation was enacted and a president pro tem was elected for the council body.

The City Board of Health, chosen in accordance with the provisions of the amended Hughes-Griswold bill by the Mayor and approved by the council, is made up of five men: George A. Robinson for a term of five years; Dr. L. M. McFadden, for a term of four years; Dr. E. P. Todhunter, for a term of three years; Walter Moss, for two years and Dr. Harry Roberts, one year.

John Logan, attorney, appearing before the council in behalf of Marion Dunlap and other property owners of Circle Avenue, called attention to the conditions on the street contended with by property owners each year. He stated that the water passed through culverts on the Greenfield pike and poured out, flooding the cellars and inundating the sidewalks. He asked that in behalf of the property owners some action be taken to cause an abatement of the nuisance.

It was moved by council that the matter of drainage be referred to the City Solicitor and the City Engineer.

E. L. Bush, attorney, appearing before council in behalf of persons in the east side of the city, brought up the matter of the extension of Grove Avenue to Columbus Avenue at Lewis street. He stated that the matter had been before council some time ago and asked that it again be taken up and looked into. The matter was referred to the Public Service Committee.

Dave Sutherland appeared before council in the matter of Short street, which runs between East street and Broadway. He stated that clay dirt from a cellar dug at the Allen home had been scattered in the street and that it had brought conditions that made it impossible to use the street for traffic. The matter was referred to the Service Committee.

Sheriff N. B. Hall was the last to appear before council, and he asked that steps be taken to give Dayton Avenue a 29-foot street instead of a 26-foot street, as the paving plans called for. He also complained that on one side of Dayton Avenue there was no sidewalk for quite a distance and asked that this matter be considered.

Council moved that the proper legal steps be taken to comply with the desires of the property owners, and the matter was referred to the City Solicitor, who will give a report at the next session of council.

Two ordinances were passed by the body. The first was to proceed with the improvement of Temple street to the west property line of Main street. The second ordinance passed was to proceed with the improvement of Water street from the property line of Temple street to the main tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Mayor V. J. Dahl gave his report for January. The Auditor's report was read and accepted by the council.

By secret ballot, Henry Brownell was chosen vice-president of council. Mr. Brownell will act in the absence of President Gregg.

Councilman Brownell presented a bill to the council body from Henry Sparks for $17.37 which had been incurred by the city since 1911. The matter was referred to the Committee on Claims.
